Lord Beaverbrook termed the new British austerity pro-gramme "startling." He added that the Prime Minister, Mr Clement Attlee, was pledged not to ask for the dissolution of the Government this year, "but most of the country wish he would go as swiftly as possible so a change of administration might be brought to pass."

Lord Beaverbrook added; "I do not entirely accept Mr Churchill's policies, but I do recognise his genius for bringing Britain out of this difficulty. "There has been a series of differences dividing us since the war, when I was gratified at the opportunity to serve him. "When he gets into office again, I will not fail to press for the things I believe in.

"We differ, of course, only on matters of policy, and l have not the slightest personal difference in the world with him."-Associated Press.

With the introduction of Standard Time with effect from tomorrow, there will be a change in the layout of the Radio Hongkong programmes. The lunchtime programme will remain the same, 10.16 A SHORT RECITAL. but during the evening World News and News Analysis will come at 7 p.m., From the Editorials at 8 p.m., and Radio Newsreel at 10 p.m. nightly.

Another change which had been frequently requested is the transfer of the opera-programme from Saturday to Thursday. At 8.45 p.m. on Thursday, following "Take It from Here," excerpts will be broadcast from Gounod's opera, "Romeo and Juliet," with Margaret Ritchie (soprano) and Frans Vroons (tenor) as the soloists. The BBC Theatre Orchestra and Theatre Chorus are conducted by Walter Goehr.

The Sunday Symphony Concert now starts at 8.10 p.m., and is followed at 9.30 p.m. by a serial, which at present is Anthony Trollope's "The Small House at Allington.'

On Tuesday, November 1, will be the second anniversary of Aileen Woods! popular Stage and Screen Favourites programme. This has over the past two years introduced to the Colony many popular favourites from Broadway successes such as "Oklahoma," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Brigadoon," "High Button Shoes," "Kiss Me, Kate" and "South Pacific."

and_exactly. It seems that it is easier for tile brunctte to find a satisfactory tint than it is for the blonde. All blondes with golden crowns have not been blessed with peaches-and-cream skins. Colours vary to a surprising degree. There are light blondes, dark ones and the betwixt-andbetweens of which there are several definite types.

Correct Selection

The delicate leveliness of the true blonde can be enhanced by the correct selection. Her skin has a luminous, semi-transparent quality and for that reason a tiny bit of violet powder is often added to the formula. For evening use the quantity of violet is increased and the white base diminished when blending goes only .

They must select rouge of the most delicate tone, the lipstick should be somewhat darker, as near to the natural colouring as. possible. The dark blonde (by that is meant the one with golden skin and hair not as light as the true blonde) can use rouge a bit more lavishly, and the tint of powder will be darker so the skin will look

As in the choice of make-up, so must the blonde be festidious about the colours of the clothes she wears. Black, of course, is her best bet, forming a definite contrast to her delicate com-plexion, bringing out the sunlighted glints of her hair. Navy is flattering and, as you, know, navy has been raging like a house after this season. Good old practical navy; every woman loves it.

FEMININE FEET

DEMININE feet is a subject that should interest majority of women, since few are free of toe twinges, or minor defects. They lose body balance, get old looking figures and some

Foot specialists divide feet into five main types, though there are variations of these, of course. There is the foot with the high instep; if that is what you have do not wear high cut pumps that may cause pain. The low cut model keeps free of the delicate nerves of the high instep. Leather soled sandals and strap styles will be found convenient and wear-able. They will provide support without hampering freedom of

From Paris

MY Paris colleague tells : me that not more than a dozen English women feature as regular clients of the Paris dress house of Christian Dior. where the cheapest model dress costs £120. And the Maison Dior is very secretive about them. Even now, two months after the opening date of the -autumn collections, women are fighting up the elegant, carpeted stairs to see the show. All seats are "booked up" for the Dior show into the middle of November.

Former film star Norma Shearer was at the end of. a long queue and waited patiently for nearly 15 minutes to get in. The Duchess of Windsor, arriving for a fitting, was also kept waiting on the stairs until a frantic saleswoman forced. small passage for her through the crowd.

Standing in a corner by herself on the stairs was an English woman who had fought her way in "just to look." She is the wife of a London chemist.

"My husband sells Dior perfume," she said. "I just wanted to get a look inside the place." A look on the stairway was all she achieved. "Come back in November, Madame, if you want to see the dresses," she was told.

Fifty-five British buyers have bought models this season for reproduction from Dior. All these 55 will have had to pay 60,000 francs (£60) each ensubsequently taken of their bills. This total of 23,800, however, represents only expenses for buyers who have bought models. There are many more who if they do not buy forfeit their deposit money.

PRACTICAL HOMECRAFT

OM A BASIC PL

FOR THOSE who like modern ideas in architecture there is this style, evidence of the wide variety of houses that can use the same basic plan (shown below).

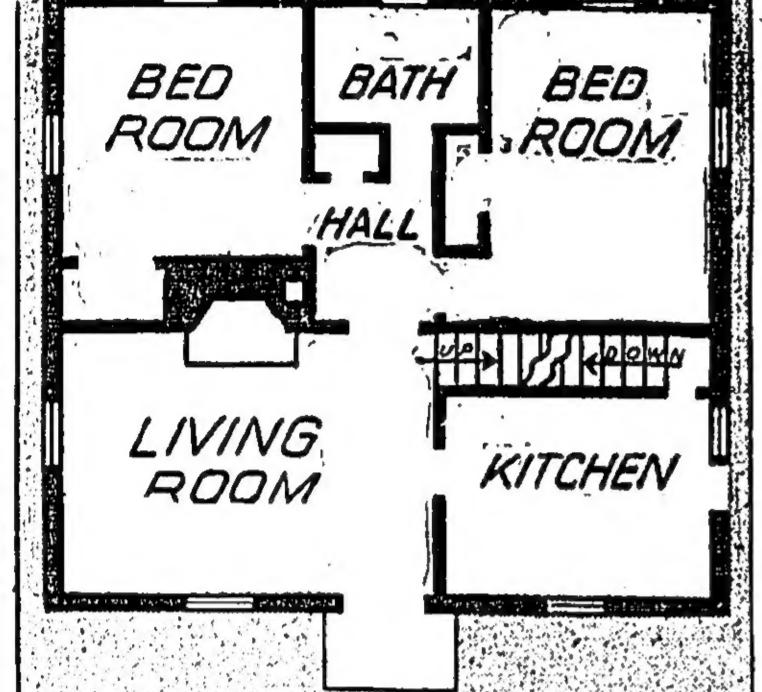

AND THIS ATTRACTIVE little house derives from the Georgian style of architecture, its full length windows adding a note of quiet dignity.

By MARION CLYDE McCARROLL

ANY one of the houses A pictured on this page, whether traditional or modern in design, can be built with the basic floor plan shown in the centre. In fact, these exterior house designs represent only a few of the many that can be developed from this same small four - room - and-bath

This collection of houses, with the plan, are used by Catharine and Harold Sleeper, authors of a fascinating new book called "The House for You-To Build, Buy or Rent," to point up the fact that if you're thinking of building, the important thing is to decide on your floor plan first, select the architectural type of your house afterward. For, it says, "whatever plan you finally decide upon may be designed with a variety of exteriors." Therefore, "don't try to design the outside of your house before you know just

A Soup Of 15 Kinds Of Fish

PARIS.—Michel Bouzy, 65, the Granddaddy of Bouillabaisso soup makers, stood among his live lobsters and threw up his hands in disgust.

"The whole thing is unbelievable," he said. "How could anyone make Bouillabaisse without garlie? And think of adding cognac! As to having 15 kinds of fishthat's ridiculous."

Bory was preparing his noontime Boullabaisse, the Marseille fish soup, in the kitchen of Prunier's restaurant in the heart of Paris.

In Philadelphia, Louis Turko, President of the Epicurean Club of Boston, and Andrew Bross-field, chef of the Trenton New Jersey country club, had almost come to blows in a radio discussion of Boulliabaisse mak-About the only ingredient they agreed on was fish.

Wahoos Clash With Wildcats In Ladies' Loop Feature

BY "STARDUST"

All roads and avenues lead to King's Park precincts tomorrow when the everincreasing crowd of week-end ball fans trek out for their quota of diamond thrills and action. John Q. Fan will be given one of the best programmes of the season tomorrow as five big games are slated for decision.

Many teams with unblemished records may see the end to their winning streaks. Two Senior Loop contenders; the Madcaps and the Canadians, clash in the biggest match of a 14-game programme. Uncle Sam's Navy may have their string of successes snapped when they tangle with the powerful Braves. The undefeated Pake take on the temperamental St. Teresa's squad in another humdinger. And there is the battle royal between the doughty foes of the Ladles' Loop. The Wahoos clash with "Doc" Molthen's Wildcats in the first of their 3-game series. This afternoon, the youthful Braves tangle with the Overscas in a Junior Loop headliner.

CHOPIN LIVES ON STAMP IN CZECH

MUSIC entered the life of Fryderyk Chopin the day he Was born. Into his little village room came the melody of violins warm in a wedding screnade.

At the age of eight Chopin played the plane at a concert. "What did the audience like best?" saked his mother. "My beautiful collar," said Chopin.

At 15 he was a composer, At 19 he left his Polish village and won the hearts of Vienna. Restleasly he flitted across Europe and poured out his music.

In London he played for Queen Victoria and the Prince Consort. Said Chopin: "Her Majorty was very kind and spoke to me twice: Prince Albert drew near the piano-a great favour, so they tell me." He found fame everywhere, but not, happiness. At 39 his last wish brought his friend, Counter Delphine Potocks to sing at his side.

And now, 100 years later, this stamp in his memory is issued by Czechoslovakia. For a Czech, Adalbert Zwyny gave Chopin his first real music lessons. Face value: Three crowns (about 3 1/4 d.); Perforation;

The new democracles are naturally alarmed at certain signs that in such feudal countries as ours, the noblemen's custom of smoking may descend to the middle-class and even to the projetariat. The famous line in the marching song, "While you've a lucifer to light your fag," led one Soviet critic to write: "This seems to indicate that the rank and file are already copying the aristocratic example of the rich cavalry of-MIOW that the only way for a IN country to make money is by enticing more and more foreign travellers, protests are once more heard against the dangers to England of the Con-Unintal Sunday—that wild festival of abandon which can be studied in any French provincial town. What is ridiculous and daugerous is that England should try to produce a clumsy imitation of a foreign country. Any traveller worth welcoming comes to England to see something different from his own country. Yet it is assumed that Americans will not return for a second visit unless they find here the things they are used to CROSSWORD in America. The way to attract visitors is to make present-day visitors is to make present-day England more like England. By the way, the principal event of the "Continental Sun-

DORN today, you have a tremendous capacity D for handling detail. Your patience and perseverance are outstanding and every job you tackle-be it large or small-commands your full attention at all times. Your reason-ing powers are excellent and you rarely make an error in judgment provided, of course, you curb your impulsiveness which breaks out rather unexpectedly at times.

You are the type to be entrusted with large undertakings, for you seldom take an important step without thinking it out from all angles. first. You can be temporarily influenced against your best judgment by those you love. But if this results in error-you know how to remely the mistake. This does not often happen, for you are quick to learn from experiencel.

Basically a real humanitarian, you spend your energies doing things rather than talking about what you would like to do. You are very
